Dipolog bishop says Palace tried 'to buy us'

By Christian V. Eguerra and Christine O. Revilla

A ROMAN CATHOLIC priest yesterday said he personally experienced an attempt by a Palawan staff member to buy off bishops on the eve of their meeting last week in Manila to discuss the implementation of the new Code of Canon Law.

"They were trying to bribe the bishops," Cardinal (Bishop) said.

Dipolog Bishop Jose Mangin said the attempt, amounting to an attempt to buy off the bishops, was made when he said the staff member offered him a check for $10,000 to sign a statement that the new Code of Canon Law was not a threat to the Church's independence.

The 69-year-old priest has been in the Philippines since 1970. He said the attempt was made when he was in the Philippines since 1970. He said the attempt was made when he was in the Philippines since 1970.

USED EXCLUSIVELY FOR FOREIGNERS who have visited US immigration here, Bolante's jail inside the compound located in the suburbs of Los Angeles, is heavily guarded and visitors are carefully screened. And they have to observe a three-code for females, shirts, dresses and also should wear beyond and high when visited for rules and policies, no short jogging shorts. Bolante himself is required to wear a scrub as the prisoner's uniform.

Oil price nears $80 on Nigeria, Mideast fears

NEW YORK—OIL PRICES SURGED to a record high of over $70 a barrel yesterday as investors reacted to reports that a conflict between Iraq and Lebanon heightened international tensions.

In Manila, however, business leaders generally took the recent surge in oil price in stride, with one trader noting it was more or less expected and that the Philippines has long been a net oil importer.

Francis Chan, president of the Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry, said business operators as well as consumers were already used to the upward trend since prices reached the $30-a-barrel level a few years ago.

"We have experienced this before and most of the price adjustment for commodities have been made. Prices of goods have tripled or quadrupled over the period," Chan said.

Also bolstering prices, the last nuclear dispute headed back to the United Nations Security Council, North Korea walked out of talks with South Korea and made investments in the United States, the world's top oil consumer.

"Geopolitical tensions have stepped up—we are watching on a new phase in Iraq and Iran," said Mike Winters of investment banking, who said that on the same day, the Philippine Consulate in Los Angeles was informed about Bolante's arrest. He said the information was relayed to him. "We wait them a day, and we also speak to them as the police."

One of the top immigration specialists in Los Angeles described the case as "a very rare one."

"This is the first time I've heard of such a case in my 30 years in the field of immigration," said Winters, who said, adding that it was a "very rare case."

'Nicole's' 'cross' done in 40 minutes

By Vito Contreras and Tanya V. Quinsada

THE SPOOLED FIREWORKS AT the cross-commissioning of the Philippine Consulate in Los Angeles did not happen.

Days before the task started, "Nicole" was warned by her lawyers to "expect no kind of fireworks" from the defense. But yesterday, only one of the Filipino Consulate's first arrested US Marines confessed the cross-commissioning and was done in 40 minutes, providing some of the most and angry outbursts that earlier marked her testimony.

Spending time with reporters, the lawyers of the three other American soldiers said they chose not to grill Nicole because she did not mention their respective claims during her emotional, three-day direct examination.

Those who adopted the "no cross-commissioning" stance were: Private Rodriguez, counsel for 5/51st Chad Carpenter; Jose Justino, for Lance Cpl. Keith Silvestro; and Brian Uyokan, for Lance Cpl. Dennis Douglas.

"The most eloquent cross-commissioning is no cross-commissioning," Rodriguez said.

Michael Andujar Stephen Perez followed the proceedings at 2:10 p.m.—the shortest hearing yet in the trial.

SURPRISING, Nicole's lawyer describes the brief grilling after cross.

DFA knew of arrest in US from Day One

By Maria U. Nolasco

LOS ANGELES—THE Department of Foreign Affairs in Manila apparently knew about the July 7 arrest of former Agriculture Undersecretary Jocelyn "Doc-joc" Bolante from Day One but kept it under wraps for almost a week.

Mike Flamingo, spokesman for the US Customs and Border Protection, which detained Bolante upon his arrival at the Los Angeles International Airport on July 7, said the investigation official was stopped as he went through passport control for "secondary inspection."

At that point, Flamingo said, it was discovered that Bolante's US visa had been revoked by the US Embassy in Manila. Bolante was detained for questioning and turned over to the US Immigration and Customs Enforcement, he said.

Flamingo said that on the same day, the Philippine Consulate in Los Angeles was informed about Bolante's arrest. He said the information was relayed to him. "We wait them a day, and we also speak to them as the police."

Atienza aide suspect in driver's slay

Minor traffic dispute led to shooting, say witnesses

By Tracy S. Santos

AN ASSISTANT OF MANILA MAYOR LEO
Atienza is being blamed by the police for allegedly killing a jeepney driver Wednesday night in Manila.

Sergeant Jose "Tito" Sagay, who, Atienza admitted, was one of his special assistants at City Hall, allegedly killed Aron Lario, 37, of Coral Street, Tondo, once a petty traffic dispute arose.

Atienza said he ordered the police intending to investigate the incident. "I told Manila
Police District Director Chief Insp. Gen. Roldan Belarmino I wanted a thorough and impartial probe of what actually happened," Atienza said.

The mayor added Sagay should present himself to the police to answer the allegations.

"As of now, there has been no complaint filed against him. There are all sorts of actions filed in the media. But I don't see any reason to say he is a police officer because, later on, he says he is not a police officer," Sagay said, saying he is a private citizen.

An investigation showed the incident happened around 4 p.m. at the corner of Laurel and Tuguegarao streets where the suspect's and the victim's vehicles were parked.

Witnesses said Sagay, who was reportedly riding a motorbike and was accompanied by a bodyguard, got into the Lario's jeepney was blocking his way, a Tuguegarao Street (2222 780).

Sagay, who reportedly introduced himself as a policeman, and Lario got into a heated argument. The suspect allegedly pulled out a gun and shot Lario in the head.

The victim died while undergoing treatment at the hospital, police said.

Chief Insp. Inspector Rangel, chief of the 10th homicide division, said a team was dispatched to arrest the suspect who, according to City Hall employees, had not appeared for work since Thursday.

Police said relatives of the victim, particularly the mother who reportedly witnessed the incident, had yet to give their names to authorities.

City Hall insiders, who refused to be named, said Sagay, reportedly the son of the secretary of Manila Mayor Antonio Lario in the 1980s, had figured in several unfortunate incidents in the past. They all so refused to deny or confirm if the suspect was the same Tito Sagay, identified in news reports in the past as Atienza's special assistant and Lario's party member, who had been accused of misbehaving in his alleged victims.

Displaced settlers ask for more time

By Nancy C. Cervilla

NOT FOR

This was the appeal of residents of Tinian, Marikina City to the mayor at the 3.8-hectare piece of land they had been occupying since 1946 not to continue demolition efforts in the area for the next three years.

Residents gripped the community of informal settlers yesterday when at least 50 men were confronted in the area around Tinian, where they would see up a Marikina around the property supposedly owned by one Francisco Garcia.

The residents, displaced by a fire that broke out on Monday, are now living along Green road, inside a creek that had swallowed because of heavy rains spawned by typhoon
"Nora."

"What we are asking for is a proper release that will let us go and be displaced again," said one resident, Francisco Garcia.

India names new suspect in train bombings

KHARAK, INDIA—INDIAN authorities on Friday named a third suspect in the week-long train bombings in Bombay, as the local media said the death toll rose to 200 people and 400 people were injured.

The government's main intelligence agency, RAW, said it had named the suspect after a long investigation.

The suspect was named as a 30-year-old man, who was a member of the Indian National Congress party, the main opposition party in the Indian parliament.

Israel pounds Lebanon as world urges restraint

BEIRUT—ISRAELI WARPLANES STRUCK AT THE HEART OF Hezbollah's power base in pre-dawn raids Friday after a day of relentless attacks on Lebanon that left around 50 people dead and ignited fears of a regional war.

Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Olmert had ordered the army to intensify the offensive against Lebanon after a barrage of rockets hit towns in northern Israel, including the Mediterranean port city of Haifa, killing three people.

In a wave of air strikes early Friday, Israeli jets pounded Hezbollah's command headquarters in Beirut while dominant southern suburbs, a power station, bridges and a Palestinian guerrilla base in southern Lebanon.

Israel on Thursday imposed an air and sea blockade on its northern neighbor and forced the closure of its airspace, only hours after it agreed with a series of attacks that damaged railways and roads but failed to hit Beirut.

World power groups have issued calls for calm after the deadline-driven tensions. Israel and Lebanon is a decade spent up in a dispute over new things in the Middle East conflict after a massive Israeli onslaught against Gaza.

Washington and Israel, in closest Middle East ally, had the right to defend itself but urged restraint while around European powers openly criticized the scale of the Israeli attacks in disproportionate.

Israel from the United Nations and the European Union are being separately condemned in the region in an attempt to defuse the crisis while the Security Council is to meet on Friday and Arab League ministers on Saturday. Israel has pointed the finger of blame at Syria and Iran, saying its new air force formed an "axis of terror" along with Hezbollah and Palestinian militant group Hamas, the target of its offensive in the Gaza Strip.

The latest crisis was triggered when Hezbollah guerrillas killed two Israeli soldiers in a double attack on the Lebanese-Lebanon border Wednesday barely three weeks after a similar raid by Hezbollah soldiers on the Gaza border. Hamas resulted in the capture of an Israeli soldier.

An Israeli Cabinet meeting also threatened to dislodge Hezbollah leader Hassan Nasrallah, an military commander who has said the two captured soldiers would only be released on prisoner exchanges.

"One could double, his own line," Israeli Minister Barak has said. "We will send our accounts with him when the time comes."

In a sign the Lebanese crisis was far from over, Olmert authorized the army "to go on with its operations and hit more targets" after a late night meeting with top defense officials.

At least 60 civilians in Lebanon, including children and whole families, were killed in more than a dozen Israeli strikes Thursday that hit the airport, Hezbollah regime and its command centers in Lebanon.

After shelling of rocket attacks against towns in northern Israel that left three dead and 10 injured, two rockets fired from south Lebanon also provoked deeper Israeli strikes inside Israel, killing at least 10 people.

Thaksin's letters to state leaders called shameful

THAKSIN SHINAWATRA

BANGKOK, THAILAND—Opposition of Prime Minister Thaksin Shinawatra on Friday apologized to Thailand and Asian heads of state for his letter to the Thai leader to US President George W. Bush and others that they said resembled "false statements."

The leader's alliance in democracy, which organized mass street protests against Thaksin earlier this year, delivered national letters to the Chinese and Japanese embassies and planned to deliver more letters to the day after, including to the United States.

A letter in the Indian and European leaders issued that the anti-Thaksin movement aimed to meet the demand for change and control "the corrupt and 'corrupt' administration" about Thailand's political crisis that Thaksin may have provided to leaders of these countries.

A separate letter to Bush expressed "false" statements compiled to explain Thaksin's promises to the United States "in a way that makes our country look like a country of fools."

Thaksin-Sinawatra left letters to leaders across Asia and Europe earlier this year. During an official visit in April, he met with British Prime Minister Tony Blair, French President Jacques Chirac, Russian President Vladimir Putin and Japanese Prime Minister Junichiro Koizumi.

But it was a June 23 letter to Bush that has stirred controversy in Thailand. Critics have denounced the letter as shameful following its Washington and said it by Thaksin to question political criticism he was once a victim.

In the letter to Bush, Thaksin said that Thai democracy was threatened.

"They had to be protected and their rights, my opponents are now attempting to use our entire constitutional crisis to exploit the will of the people," he wrote.

Thaksin's spokesman said he wanted to January when one of the members of parliament in the Bangkok's protest demanding Thaksin's resignation, according him of an opinion and pointing out that the Thai people had made a decision.

A photograph of three young men standing outdoors. The man on the left is wearing a white t-shirt and a dark cap, and is gesturing with his hands while speaking. The man in the middle is wearing a white t-shirt and a dark cap, and is looking towards the man on the left. The man on the right is wearing a white t-shirt and a red cap, and is looking towards the man in the middle. They appear to be in a casual conversation.

ANQUE LETTER TO THE EDITOR FROM ANZON

To the Tab Five. Sincerely, 'Anonymous Filipino Man'

11. Staphylococcus aureus

DEAD FAN FIVE

I say, welcome to the Philippines. Or, the rest of you, Ryan and Thom, welcome back. I'd like to wish the five of you an hour for some philippinophilic spirit. . . you know, like the WWF's Mick Foley. He has children who need school, children who need clothes. We also have an abundance of men and women who need advice.

OK, so, I'm not asking you to do what the government should be doing. I'm not asking you to leave. Stay here, honey, in fact. This is a station called WGBH-TV spends millions acquiring TV show syndicates (most, millions of dollars) each is on from before "America's Got Talent" days. These are growing areas about marine, defense and defense.

Philippine-style style

Like, um, people who wear their willies up and uh, people who try to, like, like just because that's the trend of the day.

Do you know how these are taken in the States who like to dance hip-hop like? We have them here, too. The thing is they think they said this place, because they think they're black! I do.

For some reason, I think Filipinos are inseparable from their jeans. For five years people were going to the beach. And I realize I see people in the same clothing today. On the beach.

There's blood (you'll see every day) — it's the "spare-often-washed look." The collared shirt (which buttoned up) on a shirt (also black) with black pants. You'll see them out like this even at temperatures above 70 degrees Celsius. I'm not into fashion or anything, but this makes me run away in fear. They must have a "look manual" or "uniform manual."

As a result, select:

Then is what I'm asking: You're doing more and giving, right? Have there a three-grass-and-critique? Come on, WB be free, dead book, instead of thinking of personalized messages, you just put your ratings of them (you a code of ethics, no book?)

Or, just answer your own question: when does it stop being a laughing matter, do you think? The FBI, okay.

Cult. requirements? Soil (Open the lid)

I hope I didn't seem like I was launching a attack against my fellowmen. It was a heads-but-it-was-well-meeting. I promise. (And smile.)

Style over, style off

Um, I don't believe in a "Filipino" style... you can't put a box around/condition, but I think all countries should have styles that come from them—Fashion that comes from an urge to express, manifest an urge to look like someone.

A lot of Filipino don't know that it's always been about looking like a certain type. Now, a lot of us follow something we see on foreign press-magazines. If people are gonna follow foreign looks, then, why not follow our own looks, our own style, our own expression, our own...

Anyway, the whole country loves it that you're here. The last gay group we had over was the Village People. We guys are a huge crowd.

I'm not afraid to say it... I know a handful of other straight guys who are going to go for [Wen]. They're on you and camp outside the Hyde Midlife den.

Hey, thanks for calling. I'm back where ever you want—I'm telling you, 800-4361 is a solution.

Meee-ow!

IF YOU PRIDE YOURSELF ON BEING PEOPLE who watch your girlfriend watch the shows, then you're in for a treat.

The Pussycat Dolls are about to invade Manila.

The group was formed in the post-feminist music studio of American Christian pop singer. After years of leading the group, she left the band in 2004. The group's new lead singer is Nicole Polizzi, who has been with the band since 2001.

The Pussycat Dolls have released four albums: Doll Domination, Cherry, Don't Stop Believin', and Cherry.

But by 25-year-old Brian Marquet, one of our town's flourishing and most promising young TEs, life in the past few months has been a continuous battle with the Big C. Since being diagnosed with Stage 2 Hodgkin's Lymphoma (one of the lymphomas) last May, supportive therapy has required a series of treatments meant to help shrink the tumor.
